

Welcome to the new website for the American Institute of Organbuilders.

Our web address is: www.pipeorgan.org

The site is very easy to navigate and we hope you enjoy your visit. Please visit as often as you like, 24/7.

---

The About AIO Tab gives a brief description about the inception of the American Institute of Organbuilders. There is also a PDF file listing the Board of Directors and those who serve on the various committees within our organization.

There is a Membership Tab where you will find PDF files of:

- Membership Application
- AIO By-Laws
- Information regarding Certification as an AIO member

There is an AIO Journal Tab where you can:

- E-Mail the editor of our informative Journal
- See a list of the Journal Committee
- Order Back Issues of the Journal
- Sign-up for a new subscription

The Convention & Seminars Tab will enable you to:

- View the agenda for our upcoming convention in Montreal, Canada (when those documents become available)
- Download an itinerary and registration form (when those documents become available)
- View pictures and specifications of some of the organs we will see during the convention.

There is a Links tab, under which you will find:

- Member Company Links
- Links of Interest (OHS, AGO, Organ Clearing House, etc.)
- Suppliers and Services
- Job Opportunities

There is a Contact Tab which has pictures of the Board of Directors. It is so simple to use, simply click on their picture and an e-mail dialogue box will open from your e-mail software. There is also a Member E-Mail Roster section.

The Member's Only area is easily accessed via the Member Login. Your username is the e-mail address used to send you notification of this new website. When logging in the first time, please select the "Forgot your password?" option. You will receive a temporary password via e-mail.

Once you login, you can do the following:

- Please change your password to one you prefer
- If you wish to receive AIO Convention Mail, please click the yes button at the bottom of your profile!
- Update your address
- Update your e-mail address
- Update your phone number or add additional phone numbers
- Pay your dues (beginning December 2010)
- You can access the Member's Only Pages where you can find:
  - PDF files of older copies of the Journal of American Organbuilding free to members
  - Online Technical Resources
  - A list of the AIO Lecture Series
  - Robert Vaughan Formula Worksheets
  - Full Contact information for AIO members, sort of like an online white pages.
- Additional features will be added in the future as well as the videos previously available on the former webpage.

Enjoy our new website!
